Tasmanian Vodka & Gin

Tasmania is ideally situated to make vodka & gin. The early innovators were looking for a quality spirit that they enjoyed drinking whilst waiting for their whisky to mature. Lark's Forty Spotted Gin was created with Bill Lark's Wife, Lynn, who was both interested in native pepper berries and looking for a drink herself! The Forty Spotted range has since branched – check them out!

Other distilleries have followed in their footsteps, branching out and getting creative making use of all Tassie has to offer... sloe gin from infusing gin with local sloe drupes, saffron gin, hopped gin, we even have a smoky almond gin, the list goes on.

Our high-quality distilleries and access to pure waters on Tasmania make for an ideal environment for vodka production too! Whether enjoying neat, or with a mixer, Tasmanian vodka is carving out its own spot in the market. One of our local Tasmanian distilleries are even making gin & vodka from the by-product of cheese!

With over hundreds of different varieties of Tasmanian gin & vodka available, and a rapidly evolving market as new botanicals are tried and tested!

Tasmanian Whisky

Tasmania is ideally situated to make malt whisky, and yet 150 years after the last licensed Tasmanian distillery closed its doors, it took a whisky lover to realise the environment was perfect.

Bill Lark, owner, and founder of Lark Distillery and renowned godfather of Australian whisky realised that that everything you need for a world-class whisky was in Tasmania: rich fields of barley, an abundance of wonderfully pure soft water, highland peat bogs and the perfect climate to bring all the ingredients together in a marriage of science, art, and passion.

In 1992, Bill lobbied the State Government to overturn legislation prohibiting the distillation of spirits (a process he says attracted almost no resistance from government) and was successful in his bid.

Everything changed for Tasmanian Distilling in 2014, when Sullivans Cove Distillery French Oak Cask (HH0525) was named as Best Single Malt Whisky in the World, by the World Whiskies Awards. From here, both the distillery and the Tasmanian Whisky Industry as a whole, shot to international acclaim... and we've been trying to keep up ever since!
